

NMSU Communicable Disease Preparedness Committee

Created June 12, 2006

The purpose of the Communicable Disease Preparedness Committee (CDPC) is the development and implementation of policies and actions necessary for the well being of students, staff and faculty in case of a significant outbreak of a communicable disease on NMSU campus(es). A communicable disease is one with known contagiousness and potential for serious complications or death. Our goal is to identify efficient strategies that 1) prevent disease outbreaks, 2) protect the NMSU population in the event of a disease outbreak, 3) respond to the inevitable disease outbreak (regardless of the scope of affected persons), and 4) recover from disease outbreaks at NMSU.

Katrina Doolittle, Environmental Health & Safety and Lori McKee, Student & University Health Centers are co-chairs for the CDPC.
