

DEPARTMENT OF GOVERNMENT
COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

SPRING 2007

GOVT 484

CONTEMPORARY POLITICAL THEORY

INSTRUCTOR: DR. NEIL HARVEY

CLASS MEETS M, W, F: 10.30-11.20 am, Breland 179

Note: This class fulfills one of the requirements for the Law and Society Supplementary Major (Critical Thinking Skills)

In this class we will examine major trends in political theory since the 1960s. We will discuss key concepts such as power, equality and justice, as well as their practical application in government and politics around the world. Particular attention will be given to varieties of social criticism, post-modernism and feminism. The class combines lectures, discussions and debates. Requirements will include research, oral presentation and a final paper.

For more information send an email to Dr. Harvey at nharvey@nmsu.edu